

THE LIBERAL MEDIA AND POLITICS

During the Republican Convention, Mrs. Trump had a paragraph or two that was apparently borrowed from the present “first lady”, in a speech she made years ago. It has been shown that one of Trump speech writers acknowledged his mistake in this matter, and offered to resign from the staff, but his offer was rejected. At any rate, the liberal (Clinton) media made a hay-day out of the matter. Then, Mrs. Obama came back in the Democrat Convention the very next week and made comment about how she was living in the White House—a “house built by slaves.”

If you check this out, such is not true. The White House was built by Scottish and Irish immigrants. Some of the final work done on the outside was by some slaves, but they were paid just over a dollar a day for their labor. No slave was involved in an act of slavery in the building of the White House. Did the media ever tell you this? No. It is as silent as the tomb. The media will not dare go against an Obama. Wonder why!!

Don Tarbet